

GIVE TO THE BLOOD BANK ON MARCH 17

The public is asked, each person individually, to give a pint of blood for the Red Cross Blood Bank. Why? Because blood is so often needed that the Red Cross keeps a supply on hand if the donors come through and donate enough.

For what is it used? First and foremost, it is used for the boys in service. Many a life has been saved by the use of blood when a wounded man was brought in from the battlefield and had bled more than his share.

The blood you donate is put in a bank, just as you put money in a bank, and when some of it is needed it is drawn out. Give your blood now, and when you or someone else needs it, the bank is there to draw from.

Will you give your pint of blood on March 17? If so, please regard this rule: "All donors must abstain from any of the following foods six hours before donating blood:

Milk, butter, eggs, ice cream, cheese, all fried or greasy foods, all alcoholic beverages.

Foods Permitted: Dry toast or bread with jelly or jam if desired; plain coffee or tea with sugar if desired (but no milk); soft drinks or water.

Donors are advised against complete fasting. UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES shall blood be taken from any donor during the hour following a meal. This is a period of considerable circulatory strain, hence all donors must meet the SIX HOUR DIETARY REQUIREMENT."

HERE'S HOW YOU CAN HELP THE SCOUTS

If you like cookies, the Brownies Troops I and II can supply you with all the cookies you can eat.

You can buy a whole box of cookies—good ones, too—for only 35c on Scout Cookie Day, March 14.

These cookies are delicious chocolate and vanilla cream sandwich wafers, prepared and packed especially for the Girl Scouts by a large national cookie concern.

Profit on each box of cookies will be used to help defray the expenses of troop needs and of some of the summer camping activities for which tentative plans are being made for Brownies and Intermediate Scouts to attend a two-week day camp.

Lets BUY cookies, EAT cookies, and HELP THE GIRL SCOUTS on Cookie Day, March 14!

Most public speeches involve a tremendous waste of time on the part of audiences.

Dick Russell, the author and also former Senator from Georgia, has announced his retirement after one year in the race for the Democratic nomination for President in the approaching November elections. He made it clear that he was running as a "National," rather than a "Southern" candidate but his strong implications...

The powerful Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee has been absent for some time to be seriously ill, having thrown his hat into the proverbial ring. The fact that he has definitely done so indicates that he is in the race to stay. Dick Russell is not the type to enter a Presidential race merely for the self-satisfaction of seeing his name in print. He is not a publicity seeker. He is, on the contrary, of a retiring and modest nature. The universal respect that he enjoys in the Congress among his colleagues and official Washington generally has been gained through steady self-sacrificing hard work rather than as a "headline seeker."

In fact, he has for the past several years been the recognized leader of the unofficial Southern Bloc in the Senate, which has been responsible for the defeat of the mis-called civil rights program so earnestly advocated by President Truman. Since I have also occupied a position as chairman of a similar unofficial Southern group, I have had ample opportunity to observe these qualities of modest but effective leadership exercised by the distinguished Georgian. In other words, he has always preferred to get the job and the rest of the class, or they may be given to their senior class, or they may be given to the class of better.

Students will be allowed to take the test to allow the local boards to consider deferments to those who meet the standing.

These criteria are subject to change. The local boards are instructed to follow them, but any local board classification is subject to appeal. The appeal must be filed in writing with the local board within 10 days of the date the local board mails the notice of classification.

General Hershey has urged all eligible students to take the test so they will have scores in their files when the local boards reconsider their cases to determine whether or not they meet the criteria for deferment as students. He has emphasized many times that the present criteria are variables which may be raised or lowered either to increase or decrease the number of students as the national interest shall require.

General Hershey also has repeatedly stressed that "no deferment is an exemption." A deferment is a delay or postponement, a restraint who is liable to receive deferment as a student. (2) must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course; under graduate or graduate-leading to a degree (3) must not previously have taken the test.

National Headquarters said that recently completed statistics reveal that 61.3 per cent of the 19,571 students who took the December 13, 1951 test made a score of 70 or better. Of the approximately 340,000 who took the test, 70 per cent were deferred.

Local boards are authorized to make any changes in these criteria as they see fit, provided they do not exceed the basic criteria set by the Army. The Army has the right to reject any changes.

General Hershey has urged all local boards to make these changes as soon as possible.

Miss Marques is a native of Mexico City. She acquired a smattering of English at a convent school where she took part in amateur plays and, on graduation, played a small film role in a Mexican film, "Ahi Se Quiere En Joliz," starring Jose Negrete.

When Director William A. Wellman and Producer Robert Slatk began preparations for the filming of "Across the Wide Missouri," they wanted a new face for the role of the picture's Indian heroine and notified their studio's talent scouts in the East, Southwest, Canada and Mexico to be on the lookout for a vibrant young girl. In Mexico City, an MGM scout recommended Senorita Marques, and Director Wellman wired him to fly the newcomer to Hollywood. The nation's steel industry surpassed all previous records with the pouring of its 100,000,000th ton on December 13. Never before has that amount of steel been poured out even during a full calendar year.

The trouble with highly pressurized steel is that they drop suddenly to a new low.

Saving by good housekeeping is everybody's duty nowadays - so you'll be pleased by the way telephone installers tidy up at the end of a job.

Those left-over bits of wire they gather and save are mostly copper. Bits like these from thousands of jobs add up to an important copper salvage each year - save scarce materials and money.

Your telephone company's good housekeeping begins before a wire or cable is installed. Every job is planned to make the most of "investment" dollars - the money we obtain from investors to enable us to extend and improve telephone service.

After telephones, wires and all other necessary equipment are installed, the money to maintain and operate them comes from subscribers' payments for service. This "expense" money is also used with the utmost care so that subscribers always receive the best telephone service for the least money.

Legislative Views

By WALTER JAMES PHILLIPS

This past week of the legislative session saw many appropriation bills introduced, and few with little or no merit. These were mainly the result of the efforts of some of the politicians and were introduced with the associations of the various political parties. There were a few bills which were introduced which had merit, but were not introduced by the right people. One bill introduced by Mr. John Ginn, which would have appropriated $16,000,000 for the construction of a new bridge across the Mississippi River at Waveland, was one of these. This bill was introduced by Mr. Ginn, who is a member of the House of Representatives, and was introduced with the associations of the various political parties. There were a few bills which were introduced which had merit, but were not introduced by the right people. One bill introduced by Mr. John Ginn, which would have appropriated $16,000,000 for the construction of a new bridge across the Mississippi River at Waveland, was one of these.

from the mills these blind persons who are unable to earn a living do a little something for themselves, and are being penalized by deducting the amount that they have been making from the amount of assistance that they would receive if they just sat back and did nothing to help themselves. In connection with the welfare program another bill was introduced which would require that the Welfare Department make a record of all the persons employed in the mills, and would provide for a maximum and minimum contribution which would be made by the mills to the welfare fund. This bill would also provide for a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 for imprisonment in the County jail for not more than 90 days, or both. This bill is in line with the recent Federal Law passed allowing the disclosure of those persons who are recipients of Public Welfare. It is generally believed that this will help eliminate from the rolls of welfare those persons who are not actually in need of aid, and will allow a more equitable distribution of these Welfare funds.

After quite a bit of discussion on the floor of the House a bill which would reorganize the Game and Fish Commission of the State of Mississippi was finally passed. This bill, as passed, would create a five-man commission instead of the present eight-man committee. Each of the Commissioners would be appointed from the five general areas of the State of Mississippi, that is, the Mississippi Delta, North Mississippi, exclusive of the Delta, Central Mississippi, Southwest Mississippi, and Southeast Mississippi, which would include the Gulf Coast.

This bill, together with a bill passed some weeks ago which put the State Game and Fish Commission under the budgetary requirements of many other departments of the State are now under, in the opinion of many, do much to correct the bad features of the present Commission.

Your Representative has been asked by the Town Officials of Waveland, Mississippi, to introduce a bill which would enable the Town of Waveland to float an additional $250,000 of bonds to pay for a gas and water system for the Town of Waveland. In accordance with this request your representative has drawn up a bill which would enable the Town of Waveland to float these bonds. However, it is required in said bill that before the bonds can be floated that notice will be given and an election held to determine if the people of Waveland want these bonds issued. A majority of those persons voting in the election must vote for the issuance of said bonds, before these bonds are issued. This provision is also in line with the request made by the town officials.

The Town officials have stated that a great many people have approached them on the subject of a gas and water distribution system for the Town, and wanting to give the people of Waveland an opportunity to express their views whether or not they would want a bond issue to be floated to take care of the cost of these improvements. The officials have requested that such bill be drawn.

Since last writing about the Bill which was introduced to enable the Highway Department to convey to Hancock County a portion of the West end of the bridge to be used in public view, it has been found that one of the requirements made by the US Engineers was that the entire old bridge be removed from above to shore. Your representative has written a letter to our Congressman Mr. William Collier, asking that he get in touch with the US Engineers to see if this requirement could not be waived, and to allow approximately 2000 feet off of the West end of the old bridge to remain standing and to be used as a public pier. This small portion could not be US Engineers' view, contrary to what I have been told. I will file this letter with the US Engineers and ask them to consider it.
